Please describe on a separate sheet and using at least two of the below criteria, please describe how the Nominee has exhibited public health leadership and provide clear examples of the nominee's work that demonstrates her or her role in providing public health leadership and advancing the health of the public.

1. The nominee has dedicated their career in a traditional public health organization (local or state health department, federal public health organizations such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, philanthropic organizations dedicated to public health, etc.) that has resulted in improved public health outcomes, public health infrastructure, and public service.
2. The nominee has worked to go beyond their patient panel to advocate for the health of the public, engage their community members, and to provide leadership for resolving major public health issues through an epidemic lens.
3. The nominee has provided leadership for addressing the social determinants of health, advancing health equity, and promoting diversity and inclusion as a means for achieving the highest level of health for everyone, regardless of race, ethnicity, or socio-economic status.
4. The nominee has provided leadership to realize the "triple aim" (improving the health of populations, improving the patient experience, and reducing per capita costs).
